OLD FOURTH REGIMENT FROM OHIO UNDER FIRE

REGIMENT OF WHICH M COMPANY OF THIS CITY IS A PART SUFFERS FIRST CASUALTIES AT HANDS OF GERMANS

UNION COUNTY MAN IS KILLED IN ATTACK MADE BY TEUTONS

ANOTHER OHIOAN KILLED IN ACCIDENT—NO INFORMATION AS TO WHETHER FAYETTE COUNTY MEN WERE IN CONTINGENT WHICH WAS IN FRONT LINE TRENCHES.

Columbus, O., March 7. — (Associated Press Dispatch)—The Old Fourth Regiment, Ohio National Guards, composed of troops of central Ohio, and the only Buckeye regiment in France, has been under fire, according to reports announced by the War Department.

As the 166th Infantry, a unit of the Rainbow Division, the regiment left for foreign service last September. No mention of the regiment had been made until last night's casualties list, when death in action of Dyer J. Bird, of Richwood, Union county, was reported.

The accidental death of Sergeant Forest Watson, of Kenton, also was announced.

The regiment is commanded by Colonel Benson W. Hough, who was adjutant General of Ohio under the Willis administration.

The fact that the 166th Regiment has suffered casualties at the hands of the Germans, does not necessarily mean that Fayette county men were in the contingent in the front line trenches, although some of the Fayette county men have undergone training in the front trenches.

Whether the regiment as a whole or merely a unit from the regiment was in the position where the casualties occurred, is not known, but it is believed that only a unit of the regiment was in the trenches, training under direction of the French. The "new unit" mentioned in today's report, given below, may refer to the Old Fourth Regiment.

The man killed was from E Company, of Marysville, which is in the second battalion under Major Henderson, who commands E, F, G and H companies. Major Rell G. Allen commands the first battalion of A, B, C and D companies, while companies I, K, L and M, of the third battalion, are commanded by Major Houser, of Chillicothe.

NEW UNIT DISPLAYS USUAL ENERGY

With the American Army in France, March 6.—(Associated Press Cable)—An American staff colonel who went with a French raiding party for the purpose of securing information a few days before his men took up their position in the new American sector on the Lorraine front, met a Prussian lieutenant and captured him.

The colonel with an American captain brought the Prussian officer back to the line the Americans are occupying.

The German raid, in this new sector, occurred on Monday night, a sharp fight taking place in which the Germans suffered repulse with losses.

In it was a unit which was among the most recent arrivals and which displayed the customary American fighting energy and apparently gave the enemy a much warmer reception than he expected.

The American troops here are training with French troops as at the Chemin des Dames position. This makes the third American force facing the enemy.

During the several days the Americans have been in the sector the casualties have been slight, the lines being far apart and the position is held by strong points rather than continuous trenches.

NEW PARTY TO HAVE PAIR OF MOOTED PLANK

By Associated Press Dispatch. Chicago, March 7. — Nation-wide prohibition and women suffrage will be the leading planks in the platform of the new national party which resumed session of its first national convention here today, augmented by more than 100 delegates who bolted the prohibition party yesterday when that party deadlocked over a proposed merger. The adoption of the platform was expected today.

Members of the national committee of the prohibition party remained over today to meet with representatives of the new organization to arrange for complete co-operation between the two.

SOLONS WILL NOT CONVE

By Associated Press Dispatch. Columbus, O., March 7.—It was the impression in state house circles today that a special legislative session is unlikely. Some means of furnishing the State Board of Administration with funds which it needs for necessities in many state institutions can be found, thus doing away with one of the most serious excuses for a special session.

TO BREAK UP HOLDINGS OF HUNS IN U. S.

Vast Property Holdings May be Taken Over and Sold to Spike Spread of "German Kultur" in America.

Money to be Held Until After the War.

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, March 7.—Plans to break up the vast holdings of German interests in the United States and place them in other hands so that after the war they cannot continue to be what has been characterized as outposts of German culture in America, were presented to Congress today by A. Mitchell Palmer, the alien property custodian, and unanimously approved by the Senate appropriations committee.

Mr. Palmer asked the committee agreed that legislation should be attached to the urgency deficiency bill empowering him to sell the property to any private interest, the proceeds to be held in the treasury until after the war.

Whether the German owners will receive the money would be determined by peace terms.

BOLD DASH FOR HOME TRENCHES

Nine Americans, Lost in No Man's Land, Emerge from Shell Hole Near German Lines and Beat it Back.

Not a Single Shot Is Fired by Surprised Germans.

(Associated Press Cable) With the American Army in France, March 6.—An American patrol comprising one officer and eight men, which had been missing since last night in the sector northwest of Toul suddenly emerged from a shell hole close to the German lines today and made a dash across no man's land without a shot being fired at them.

It was noon when the patrol carried out its men to the American lines.

The men's comrades looking on expected every second to see them wiped out and their safe return was an agreeable surprise. They explained they had lost their way in the dark.

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, March 7. — Continued improvement of health conditions in United States camps is shown in the detailed report of the Surgeon-General for the week ending March 1st. The death rate—6.6 per one thousand—is the lowest recorded since November 16, 1917. Pneumonia continues to decline in all the camps.

AT LAST!

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, March 7.—The administration bill for control of railroads during the war was prepared for final action by Congress when the Senate and House conferees today reached complete agreement.

Under the congressional final agreement the period of government control of the railroads was limited to 21 months and President Wilson is given power to initiate rates subject to review by the Inter-State Commerce Commission.

PROHIBITION MATTER UP

By Associated Press Dispatch. Albany, N. Y., March 7.—The New York Assembly today adopted a resolution requesting the clerk of the United States Senate and House of Representatives to transmit to it a certified copy of the vote in Congress by which the federal prohibition constitutional amendment was declared passed.

This may result in bringing the constitutionality of the congressional action before the federal court sooner than had been expected.

Assemblyman Tuckerman, republican announced that the certified copy of the resolution the assembly or certain members of it would be in a position to state in the court that the New York Legislature had not waived its rights to question the validity of the vote in Congress.

Central Executive Committee Asks Soldiers' and Workmen's Council to Ratify Peace Terms of the "Political Bandits."

GERMAN RAIDS ON WESTERN FRONT ARE INCREASING IN MAGNITUDE

Reciprocal Firing Under Way on Important Sectors of Italian Front Where Italian Airmen Are Doing Notable Work.

GERMAN INVASION CONTINUES

Despite the announcement by the German high command that hostilities had ceased in Russia, an official Russian dispatch today says the enemy has captured Jamburg, east of Narva, and 68 miles from Petrograd. While the Turko-German offensive is continuing beyond Trebizond.

The Central executive committee of the Soldiers' and Workmen's Council, while recognizing the German peace terms were those of "political bandits" has called on its delegates to the Moscow congress to vote for the ratification of peace, says the Izvestia, the Bolshevik organ.

This action is advised because the peace has afforded the social revolution an "absolutely necessary respite."

On the other fronts the fighting is confined to trench raids, artillery bombardments and aerial activity. Both sides are almost fully active in the newly developed raiding tactics in which the artillery arm is employed freely by way of preparation. The German raiders have been somewhat more aggressive than usual during the last 36 hours.

Renewal of reciprocal firing by both enemy and the Italians on the important sectors of the Italian front are noted in the official war office statements. Effective work has been done by Italian airships.

INSURANCE OF MILITARYMEN IN BILLIONS

1,500,000 Persons Are Insured Under War Risk Plan, Involving Some $12,250,000,000.

By Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, March 7.—More than $12,000,000,000 worth of insurance has been written on the lives of American soldiers, sailors and nurses by the War Risk Insurance Bureau, Secretary McAdoo announced today.

Up to the close of business 1,392,324 applications representing insurance of $12,256,448,500 already had been received at the Bureau, and late reports from the American forces in France together with insurance now in transit indicates the total written to date is well above twelve billion, covering more than 1,500,000 in the military or naval service.

GERMANS ARE AFTER PEACE

By Associated Press Dispatch. An Atlantic Port, March 7.—Due to a better system of food distribution and more rigid control of food supplies by means of ration cards the last winter in Germany was not so severe on the poor people as the previous winter, according to Miss Elizabeth McCann, an American who arrived here today. She left Germany last December, she said.

"The people are hoping for peace soon," Miss McCann said. "I do not believe there will be an uprising as long as the war lasts, for the Germans apparently have confidence they will win."

RED CROSS ACTIVITIES

The last of four boxes of bed shirts and knitted articles completed since the 15th of February was shipped from the Red Cross work shop Wednesday. There were 229 shirts; 60 sweaters and 40 pairs of socks in the last two boxes.

The four boxes contained 725 bed shirts made with immaculate neatness.

Much interest in Surgical Dressings. The Surgical Dressings Classes are progressing splendidly in their work and the women find it of absorbing interest.

Twenty-five women have enrolled with the member of the class which took instructions under Miss Campbell, so that fifty women are now engaged in this most important branch of American Red Cross work. The days are Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and twenty can be accommodated each day. There is still room for a number of additional workers and they will be welcomed, as it is desired to put out all the work up to full possibilities.

Each piece of finished work is inspected by the work room managers. The standard is high, so that it is expected, the work will pass critical inspection.

The amount of completed work is now sufficient for a shipment, which will be made as soon as definite instructions in regard to packing are received.

Shipment of French Models. The N. L. W. S. sent out a few days ago two big boxes of Surgical Dressings in the French models, which were made before the American Red Cross patterns, which will here after be followed, were taken up.

The middle of January five boxes of these French Surgical Dressings were shipped by the League to the New York headquarters of National Surgical Dressings, and word has been received that the work was all approved and is now on the way to France.

These dressings were entirely in muslins, as the gauze work has only been done in the later formed classes under Red Cross instruction.

Another startling fact presented by Mr. Kelley was that the death rate in Belgium increased 500 percent as a result of lack of food and its resultant evils.

HORSE SELLS 23 TIMES IN HOUR

Selling a horse 23 times at public auction inside of one hour and giving the proceeds of entire sale to the Red Cross is the remarkable feat accomplished at the Jack Allen sale, near BookWalter.

When Mr. Allen held his sale he offered an ancient nag to be sold for the benefit of the Red Cross.

The first bidder purchased the nag for $5. He promptly offered the nag for sale for the Red Cross, and again the nag brought $5. This was repeated until the nag had changed owners 23 times, and the last man, receiving no further bids, gave the animal to a neighbor. $110 was realized for the Red Cross.

Miss Morgan submerges her own personality as far as possible, but there is no one more competent to speak on the things American money is doing for French misery than this woman, who has largely financed the American Fund for French wounded and engaged personally in the work "over there." It is possible that the French ambassador may be at the meeting.

Relax the Censorship

It seems to have remained for a returning commander to raise the veil that the censorship has kept pegged down. We now know that our troops are as fine as any, as full of fight, as dependable. In alluding to the censorship, General March does not hesitate to assert that it is to stringent. He speaks for intelligent relaxation, and is quoted as saying that the policy of secretiveness is "lamentable." American officers in France disapprove of it. The criticism seems to run not only against silence about the transformation of our troops into a formidable fighting force, but against the manner of reporting casualties, for General March remarks significantly: "I know of no gentle method of conducting a war of this magnitude, and no army can expect not to have somebody hurt."

Before the United States entered the war the British censorship was roundly scored in this country for tactics of a kind that the ostrich indulges in with manifest self-satisfaction. Can it be that the American censorship is no better, or worse? —New York Times.

The Public Approves

General satisfaction follows the action of the mayor and council in making a definite move towards cleaning the paved streets of our city. Some of these streets have never been cleaned since they were put down and their filthy condition has been a public mortification as well as a menace to the health and comfort of the community.

The number of paved streets laid in Washington the last few years has greatly added to the appearance and dignity of the town, but there is little advantage in having paved streets if they are buried beneath an accumulation of mud and debris, unpleasantly blown about by every breeze.

The action taken by council to keep the streets clean by flushing, the expense of which is to be met by assessment upon the abutting property, will insure a condition of cleanliness that is urgently desired by the public.

The council and the mayor is entirely united in regard to this most necessary street cleaning—that it was not done long ago was due largely to disagreement among municipal officers.

The mayor has taken a firm stand that the streets must be cleaned quickly and systematically and the council is with him to a man. No more welcome news could be given to the public than that the coming summer will be free from the annoyance of last summer's dirty streets.

Today's Baffling Problem

There isn't much incentive for an editor to write about anything but war now days. No one is really vitally interested in anything else. Nothing in our day has ever so affected the lives of people and it will affect them more and more as the conflict engulfs more Americans.

Go where you will there is no getting away from war topics. The business world is vitally interested in finance as it is affected by the war, and upon its duration, failure or success hang all economic questions; the religious world is subordinating all other work to meet the spiritual and moral requirements of the war; the social world has laid aside frivolity to engage in necessity war work and almost the sole motive of only social activity today is as a war benefit measure.

The thing which people want to read about is the thing in which they are most interested and there is nothing in newspaper, magazine or book which immediately grips the reader as that which concerns the war.

More than ever before people are looking to the editorial page for concise discussion of the issues of the moment, and issues as vital as those of the present demand a careful consideration and understanding that brings to the editor added responsibility.

The truth of the statement recently made that there is not a newspaper of standing in America that is not giving larger attention to its editorial page calls forth no denials. Before the war reaction from a period of sensational journalism was sweeping the reading public to the editorial columns as "the vital touch with the great movements and thoughts of the times." And now that the war is on the first thing turned to after the glaring headlines and big news of the front page is the editorials. The editor's duty has become imperative—to make the newspaper the carrier of views that, clear and forceful in expression, guide the minds of readers into channels that are sane and just and help them to an unbiased consideration of today's baffling problems.

At least that is the way it appears to the camouflage editor; the real editor is in Florida.

OUR FIGHT.

This is your fight!
A Man's fight!
What do you intend to do?
Are you going to sit just idly by,
Or going to see it through?
It's your fight and my fight,
A battle for Right 'gainst Wrong,
To uphold the weak Against those who seek
To enslave because they are strong.

This is your fight!
Woman's fight!
What do you intend to do?
Frivol and Waste, over Novels pore While your Sister fights disease and gore?
It's your fight and my fight,
They need your helping hand
To knit and save,
To stitch and pace
The way to a peaceful land.

It's Humanity's fight
For Posterity's right,
No matter where you are born,
North or South, East or West,
Shady vale or mountain's crest;
It's your fight, it's our fight,
For the millions who yet may sail,
That on this earth
Which gives them birth
The cause of Right prevail.

CHAPTER EIGHT

Joe never tasted anything so good as the meal on his first home coming. To be sure he had good grub at camp but there was a difference when mother cooked it—a heap of difference. Joe could not help but think it strange the way he noticed the little things about the house, the same old pictures of the three white horses over the sideboard in the dining room, his father's easy chair in the same place, his mother's work basket on the table in the corner where she always kept it. Oh, how good to be home again, even if it was only for a little while. "Strange how a fellow never notices or thinks about these things when he sees 'em every day, but they sure do stand out big when you're away from 'em," Joe thought to himself.

Turning to his father Joe said, "you know father, this isn't just a war, as former wars have been, it's an adjustment of the whole world and it's going to make this old ball of mud a pretty decent place on which to live, after it's all over. And it's GOT to end the right way. Just imagine, if that Prussianized bunch of Huns should dominate the world, it would be pretty tough on the ones coming after us. And personally, I'm glad, GLAD, that I'm in it and have a chance to do my little bit to stop them. If all the people in this country would wake up and think the same way it would make it a heap easier for those behind the guns and easier for themselves as well, for it would be ended that much quicker. I've been doing a lot of reading since I've been down there at camp—more than I ever did in all my life and, it's given me an insight into this whole thing that I never understood before. Yet there are some croakers—pacifists they call them, they should be called nuts—they talk about peace—peace at once, at any cost. Would there be any peace in any home with a rat-sneak in the front room? I should say not, and until those blood drunk Huns are put where they'll have to behave there will never be peace, a permanent peace where every man or woman can live their lives in safety, subject to no autocrat or Kaiser but only to the will of the majority."

"And by golly dad, that's the longest speech I ever made in my life, but I mean every word of it," Joe added.

His father said nothing but nodded his head and thought to himself, "and this is the same son who went away a few short weeks ago, and at that time never had a serious thought about anything in his life," and he beamed at the son he was just commencing to know.

IRISH LEADER SADLY MISSED

(Associated Press Cable)

London, March 7.—The death of John Redmond at the moment when the convention which is to settle the future of Ireland is having its most momentous session is considered in political circles to be almost a disaster.

Mr. Redmond exercised a great moderating influence and if, as Dublin dispatches say, there again is a prospect of agreement, he must be given a great measure of credit for this state of affairs.

Despite the fact that the act granting self government which finally became a law in 1914 was prevented from being put into force because of the war, Mr. Redmond stood by the English government.

(By American Press)
Chicago, March 7.—Delegates to the Prohibition national convention voted to co-operate and federate with the National party in the furtherance of certain mutual aims, but rejected a proposal for a complete merger.

After a test vote on the merger resolution had failed to produce the two-thirds majority necessary for adoption, a substitute resolution by Dr. Charles Scanlon of Pittsburgh was accepted, 203 to 75. It provided that the Prohibition party shall retain its name and continue its present activities, but that its national committee shall meet with the National party committee to co-operate in furthering the election of state legislators and congressmen favoring the platform of the two parties.

Social and Personal

The Sugar Grove W. C. T. U. convened at the home of Mrs. Anna Hardway, Wednesday afternoon.

A Frances W. Willard memorial program was presented in charge of Mrs. Elva Post, following quotations from writings of Miss Willard, given in response of roll call.

There were three good papers.
Mrs. Leo Baughin treated of "The Francis Willard Memorial Fund and its Uses," Miss Minnie Brakelhoff of "Francis E. Willard's Influence Upon Young People of Today," and Mrs.
Pearl Darlington of "The Sailor Lady at a Philadelphia White Ribbon Social."

It was decided to donate two dollars to the Willard Memorial fund.
Two committees were appointed, one to send a telegram to Congress urging War Prohibition measures and one to send a box of literature to the penitentiary.

Mrs. Elva Post assisted the hostess in serving tempting refreshments.

The guests were interested in seeing a number of gifts sent back from France by Mrs. Hardway's son, Capt.
O. E. Hardway, of Company K, 166th.
Among them was French peasant apron and a Swiss watch sent to the son Emmitt.

The regular monthly meeting of Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of Grace M. E. Church was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. A. Stafford. There was a good attendance and an excellent program under the leadership of Miss Fanny McLean.

Miss McLean's topic, "The Woman in Black" brought forth many interesting facts in regard to the life of bondage lived by the Moslem women.
Mrs. Hodson read sketches from "An African Trail." This information revealed more than ever the great need of Foreign Missions. A leaflet entiled "You Didn't Tell Me," was read by Miss Carter.

Mrs. Wm. McClain was pianist for the afternoon.

The girls of Mrs. Scott Hopkins'
Sunday School Class of Grace M. E.
Church enjoyed an "indoor picnic supper" at the home of their teacher, Wednesday evening.

Following the supper the girls were engaged in Red Cross work.

Friends of Miss Mabel Kirk, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
George Kirk, of New Holland, will be interested in the announcement of her engagement to Mr. Orlan Hays, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hays, who is a member of the 176th Ambulance Corps, now stationed at Camp Sheridan, Montgomery, Alabama.

Miss Kirk is attending Ohio Wesleyan University and the announcement was made at Monnet Hall, at a pretty luncheon given by Miss Margaret Foley, a school friend of the bride-elect. The affair was given on Miss Kirk's birthday.

The announcement is also of much interest in this city, the home of the popular young soldier.

Few of the Presbyterian Guild Ken-singtons of the year have been more enjoyed than the one of Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank
A. White, with Mesdames Wm.
Sprenger, Woodward, Logan, B. F. Leland, Martin Hamm and Edge assisting hostesses.

It was delightfully social, with over thirty women knitting and visiting.
Diversion quite novel and entertaining was provided by a magazine question and answer contest.

Miss Mary Edge favored the guests with beautiful piano solos and Miss Elizabeth Hadley, a very promising young pianist was heartily applauded after a pretty solo.

Mrs. J. F. Dennis presided during the business session, during which reports were made by the Secretary,
Mrs. G. W. Blakeley and Treasurer,
Mrs. Austin F. Hopkins.

Attention was called to the fact that the Howe pictures will be given under the auspices of the Guild on the second of April.

The hostesses served a dainty refec-tion during the afternoon.

The next Kensington will be held at the home of Mrs. Miller Minter.

The Chi Delta Chi Club is making elaborate plans for a St. Patrick's dance next Friday night March fifteenth.

Splendid music will be furnished and every effort is being exerted to make the affair a complete success.

SAD SERVICES PRECEDE
BURIAL OF BABY SON

Rev. Wm. Boynton Gage conducted a simple and affecting service over all that was mortal of the baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Hughey, Sherman W. Hughey, at the home of Mrs.
J. W. Hughey, Wednesday afternoon.
The home was filled with relatives and friends and sympathy went out in overflowing measure to the sorrowing parents and those who grieved with them.

The minister spoke with tender feeling of the beautiful boy whose presence had gladdened the home for so short a time before being garnered for the heavenly gardens.

The hymns, "Precious Jewels" and "My Jesus as Thou Wilt" were read.
A profusion of lovely flowers covered and surrounded the tiny white casket. The pall-bearers were Mes-

HARTMAN THEATER

(Columbus, O.)

A spectacular production of more than ordinary interest, is F. Stuart Whyte's modern version of "Robinson Crusoe," which comes to the Hartman Theater for three days commencing Monday, March 11th, with the usual Wednesday matinee. The immortal story of "Robinson Crusoe" appeared in 1719—almost two hundred years ago, yet he and his man Friday are just as popular today with readers as they at once became.

When Daniel De Foe finished his tale of the shipwrecked Robinson Cru-so, he went the rounds of the publishers, but all turned a deaf ear to him save William Taylor, and this fortune-ate speculator is said to have cleared one thousand pounds by the work, which fairly jumped into popular favor. It has been said that De Foe obtained Alexander Selkirk's Journal and made use of its contents in his story—but, however, he got the idea and he certainly did with it what Shakespeare did with ideas he "borrowed" from other authors of history.

"Robinson Crusoe" has been printed in almost every language and has been the delight of all creeds and all distinctions. That is why it has lived without the least show of age. The story of the man alone on a desert island is one that lends itself peculiarly to dramatic effect, and the English pantomime writers of a century ago realized its value. They made it into a dashing and attractive spectacle and for a hundred years it has been a great favorite in England and the United States. In preparing this 1917-1918 version, Mr. Whyte has taken particular care of bringing out the principal points of the original story, and with this as a background, has evolved a spectacular musical production of infinite appeal, combining the dramatic story with a fanciful romance of fairy-like splendor, presented the whole in a gorgeous setting of eleven swiftly moving scenes.

SERIOUSLY HURT BY FERTILIZER CAVING UPON HIM

Herman Self Sustains a Crushed Leg and Internal Injuries at the M. Hamm Plant—Taken to Fayette Hospital.

While engaged in picking down fertilizer at The M. Hamm Company's plant, Wednesday afternoon, Herman Self, aged 24 years, sustained serious if not fatal injuries, when the fertilizer caved down upon him, almost burying him alive.

Workmen had been engaged in removing the fertilizer from the great pile in the drying plant, and the young man had been warned to be careful of the overhanging fertilizer. He stepped too close to the ledge of fertilizer and it fell upon him.

One leg was broken and badly crushed above the knee, and he sustained internal injuries which are giving the attending physicians grave concern.

The young man, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Self, of John street, was speedily removed to the Fayette Hospital, where he is receiving every attention. Dr. Drury, of Columbus, was called in on the case Wednesday night, and Thursday morning the injured man was resting fairly easy, considering the nature of his injuries. Mr. Self is married.

The exact amount expended for thrift stamps and war savings stamps in the high school was found to be $754 by actual checking up and not in the neighborhood of $1,000, as was supposed.

GROCCERS FAIL TO REACH AGREEMENT FOR ORGANIZATION

Food dealers, manufacturers and distributors to the number of several dozen, from all parts of the city and county, assembled at Memorial Hall, Wednesday afternoon, ostensibly for the purpose of organizing so that the orders of the United States Food Commission could be better carried out, but after considerable discussion the meeting adjourned without an organization being perfected.

The session was presided over by Chairman Glenn M. Pine, of the Fayette County Food Administration, who outlined the purpose of the meeting, and introduced C. S. Kelley, of the Federal Food Administration, who spoke for some little time on the necessity of food conservation, giving facts which showed the reason for such action, and proving beyond question that there is plenty of reason for conserving food throughout the United States in order that starving allies may be kept alive and the allied armies kept in fighting trim to conquer the German hordes.

Mr. Kelley presented facts which were not new to many present, and yet which brought all to a realization of why the government is so anxious for the conservation of wheat, meat and sugar.

Following his address discussion followed which eventually resulted in the meeting adjourning without a definite organization being arranged to bring about closer co-operation among the food distributors in general.

It is expected that in the near future another meeting will be called so that such organization may be made.

It may also be said that Fayette county is the only county where the food distributors have failed to wholly unite in an organization such as desired by the Food Administration.

BIG EXPLOSIVE PLANT PLANNED

Blanchester is said to be somewhat stirred up over the report that the United States government has options on 1,000 acres of land near there, upon which it proposes to erect a plant for the manufacture of explosives.

There have been several references in some of the Cincinnati papers, the last one being Monday evening when it was announced that options were held as stated above.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel, his efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why are the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.
